

Knowledge of group versus individual therapies delivered via digital technologies:

- Awareness that each modality has certain strengths and limitations
- Awareness and ability to select in an informed way relevant digital platforms that can facilitate individual or group working